

Diversity and Equal Opportunities Policy

The Leeds School of English has a strong commitment to diversity and equal opportunities at all levels of its operation.

We promote equality through our admissions and recruitment processes, any by seeking to eliminate any form of discrimination based on gender, race, caste, class, ethnicity, nationality, religion, disability, sexual orientation, political or religious beliefs, or age.

No form of discrimination will be tolerated.

The Leeds School of English recognises that for some students who are accustomed to different cultures, accommodating to the School's ethos of diversity and equal opportunities may represent a challenge; therefore, all staff are expected to help reassure and guide students sympathetically.
